

By coming to the table after his opponent has fouled, just pink and black remaining and being awarded a free ball and if he were more than 13 points and less than 19 points in arrears.

If he were to nominate the black as his free ball and pot it he would score 6 points, the black would then be re-spotted leaving 13 points available which added to the free ball 6 would give a total of 19 points which would be a frame winning score. If however he were to inadvertently cause the pink to also be potted when playing the free ball black he would still only score 6 points. The black only would then be re-spotted leaving just 7 points available and the striker between 8 and 12 points in arrears.
